THE HISTORY

Be sure to pick up a copy of the Griffith Italian Heritage Trail from the Griffith Tourism Hub, and take a self-guided tour of places that tell the story of Italian settlement.

Griffith's story is shaped by the Italian families who helped transform a pioneering irrigation settlement into one of Australia's most celebrated food and wine regions.

Farmland was first made available in 1912 thanks to the development of the Murrumbidgee Irrigation Area (MIA), with the construction of Burrinjuck Dam, Berembend Weir and 139km of canals. With the opportunities created by irrigation, Italian migration was very strong from 1913, with a second wave settling here after the Second World War, drawn to the area to pursue the type of farming that was familiar to them in their homeland. As a result, Griffith today has the highest proportion of Italian ancestry of any Local Government Area in Australia.

Their hard work, agricultural knowledge and entrepreneurial spirit helped establish the vineyards, orchards, market gardens and food businesses that continue to shape Griffith's identity and has made it the vibrant destination it is today.

Through the family traditions and continued strong sense of community, A Taste of Italy Griffith was born!

A Taste of Italy Griffith is a joyous week-long celebration of this Italian heritage and culture that is so unique to this region. You will find a wide range of Italian-inspired events and experiences to enjoy as you taste, sing and dance your way around Griffith.

All events are held at various locations throughout the Griffith region and bookings are required for most events.

Every effort has been made to ensure the details provided in this publication are correct at the time of printing. Visit Griffith accepts no responsibility for inaccuracy whether by inclusion or omission.
